Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me. Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at Oberdorfer's drug store. Price 50c and $1 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach." Guaranteed by Oberdorfer, the druggist. Price 50c.

Dangers of Defective Plumbing!

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs or contagious disease to which the human system readily succumbs. Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures. If in doubt, consult us regarding defective fixtures with "STANDARD" Porcelain Enameled Ware, acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

MARSHALL FIELD, the great Chicago merchant, died last week and left $150,000,000. The largest part of which he leaves in trust for the children of his son, who recently died. He gives a married daughter $8,000,000 and $8,000,000 to the City of Chicago, and $100,000 each to a number of nieces and nephews. Column after column has been published in the papers about this man, making him out one of the greatest men that ever lived. Not one cent did he leave to the poor and hard-working people in his employ, or to relieve the thousands who are suffering to-day in his great city with hunger and for want of proper clothing to keep them warm. We have been told that Marshall Field was a hard task-master and paid smaller wages to his employees than any other Chicago merchant. These things you do not see in print when one of these multi-millionaires die. Too much money you know. Money is the God these days and if you possess the filthy lucre you will be praised to the very skies after you are gone.

It is said that the Legislature will not be permitted to entirely smother the question of fair election laws. Senator Harbison has agreed to offer the Louisville bill in the Senate and R. W. Miller, of Madison, has consented to introduce it in the House. Now the Legislature must consider the fair election question or ignore it. We are not prepared to say whether there is any merit in the Louisville bill, but we believe it will be a serious mistake both of policy and politics for the Legislature to fail to enact some kind of legislation in the interest of fair elections. On this line we heartily agree with the Lexington Herald when it says: "The Democratic party in Kentucky should not, in foolish confidence in its power, ignore the warnings that come from the general spirit of independence amongst American voters. It may require some time for the citizenship of Kentucky to be permeated by this spirit, but even in Kentucky, which has submitted to much in the name of party regularity, there is a limit to popular endurance."

MUCH unjust criticism is being heaped upon the head of United States Senator Tillman for his attack upon President Roosevelt in his speech the other day in the Senate Chamber. We need a few such Senators to wake up that body, most of whom are there merely to represent bloated bond-holders and trusts. Senator Tillman touched up the newspapers a little about making exaggerating reports of his utterances, and in speaking of the matter the Courier-Journal voices our sentiments when it says it is a good thing to have at least one pitchfork in the Senate of the United States. Whether we agree or disagree with the Senator from South Carolina in his conclusions, we must respect his integrity, his courage and his surpassing vigor. Mr. Tillman should not berate the newspapers upon their faults of omission. That is hardly their prevailing offense against truth. On the contrary, rather the reverse. Their tendency to exaggeration, to loose and inexact statements, and, sometimes, to a certain absence of the sense of accountability, we should say constitute their besetting sin. The pitchfork and the tomahawk should cultivate friendly relations and should love one another.

MAYOR O'BRIEN's proclamation warning the citizens of Paris, among other things, that the ordinance relating to the cleaning of the pavements and gutters will be enforced will be commended by the whole population.

There could not be a more intolerable nuisance than our sidewalks after every fall of snow. Here and there, at far intervals, some thoughtful and considerate property holder will clean the snow from his pavement, but where one person does this at least twenty—in the resident district—let the snow be until it melts and goes away in a slush, whether it takes two or three days or that many weeks. And during all the time the snow is allowed to lie on the pavements it is a discomfort nothing short of nuisance to men who have to walk the streets, and as to the ladies, only those venture out who are compelled to.

We have had but one snowfall this year, but that snowfall kept the pavements a river of nasty slush for an entire week, and we got relief from it finally only by the snow disappearing of its own accord. It is shameful that the pavements in a town as large as Paris should be allowed to remain in such condition, and if the Mayor will have property holders clean the snow from their pavements as soon as it can be done after the snow ceases to fall he will receive the grateful thanks of a suffering community. The ordinance fully covers the matter and should be rigidly enforced. Let us have a town that looks like people live in it.

Be Careful What You Say.

A newspaper man was sitting alone, smoking, when he had occasion to use his telephone. He arose, laid the cigar he was smoking on a chair and took down the receiver. Just as he lifted the instrument a friend stepped into the office and started to sit down in the chair. Not realizing that the operator could hear what he was saying, and just as she was about to say "Number, please?" in her sweetest tone, the editor yelled: "Look out there! You'll burn your pants!" Communication between him and central was at once cut off and about half an hour later the manager called and demanded an explanation.

His explanation was satisfactory to the manager, but central refused to be comforted.

A Good Suggestion.

An exchange offers the following, which should receive consideration at the hands of all newspaper readers. It suggests to its readers "that they carefully study the advertisements in its columns before making purchases. The wise housekeeper of to-day watches the papers closely, and when she sees bargains offered takes the paper and goes after them. This rule has become so much in vogue that advertisers now recognize that they must be absolutely truthful in the prices and goods they advertise. It is the proper way for the buyer and seller to get together, and therefore we are confident you will find it to your interest to pursue this method in buying."

After the Touts.

A sensation was furnished the Frankfort lobbyists Wednesday when Representative Miller, of Madison county, introduced a bill fixing limits beyond which they shall not go. This is a good move, and all honor to Mr. Miller for making a move. The professional lobbyist should be put out of business. They remind us of touts on a race track and should be dealt with in the same manner—put them off the track and make them leave the town.

Resolutions of Respect.

The Grand Thrice Illustrious Master of the Universe in his all-seeing wisdom has deemed it for the best to summon our worthy Companion, Abraham Shire, to the place where he shall receive the wages that are justly due him. Companion Shire was made a Royal and Select Master in Paris Council No. 30, February 1, 1870, and since that time has always been a true and faithful member of our order, an honorable citizen and a kind and loving father.

BE IT RESOLVED, 1st, That by the death of Companion Shire, Paris Council No. 30, of Royal and Select Masters, has lost one of its most faithful and devoted members and the community a just and upright citizen.

BE IT RESOLVED, 2d, That we extend our sincerest sympathy to his son and daughter in their hour of great sorrow.

BE IT RESOLVED, 3rd, That these resolutions be spread upon our records, published in the county papers and a copy be sent to his children; and that this Council be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

Sued for Damages.

Relatives of Richard Dixon, the negro who was lynched at Springfield, Ohio, a little over a year ago and was the cause of riots in that city which it required the entire state guard of Ohio to quell, have sued the city of Springfield for $10,000. The Ohio authorities have been digging up a history of Dixon's past life and as Cynthiana was his home they gathered a great deal of evidence there that will be used during the suit. The state law of Ohio allows the family of every person killed by a mob $5,000.

Motion Denied.

Wednesday afternoon, at Frankfort, Judge Stout passed upon the request of Supervisor Claude Redmon to issue a temporary order directing the County Judge to turn over to him the prisoners confined in jail, to be worked upon the roads. The motion was written, and among other things stated that unless the writ was granted the petitioner would be irreparably injured, and would sustain great loss.

After arguments by N. C. Fisher and Judge Brent, of this city, and Mr. Edelin, of Frankfort, on behalf of the Supervisor, and Robert C. Talbott and Harmon Stitt, on behalf of Judge Dundon, the court denied the writ. At the march term of court the case will be tried upon its merits.

The question involved is whether or not the County Judge has discretionary powers upon an application from the Road Supervisor for the prisoners sentenced to hard labor. The Supervisor holds that the prisoners have to be turned over upon his application. Judge Dundon says that they are not to be turned over unless the court considers it practicable.

Mrs. Tucker Run Over.

Mrs. Eliza Tucker was run over yesterday afternoon by a horse driven by a colored man as she was crossing the street from G. W. Davis' corner to V. K. Shipp's grocery. The man evidently did not see her until after the horse had knocked her down, for he then at once stopped his horse and pulled him back off her. She was carried into Mr. Davis' furniture store and Dr. Dudley was called to attend her. Shortly afterwards she was wheeled home in an invalid's chair. Mrs. Tucker stated that her shoulder felt like it was broken, but a thorough examination could not be had at that time to ascertain her injuries.

It was Mr. Charlton Alexander's horse and buggy, driven by one of his servants, and several who witnessed the accident say he was not driving fast and they believe him when he stated he did not see Mrs. Tucker. He seemed to regret it very much.

LATER.—After an examination by the physicians it was found that Mrs. Tucker's shoulder was knocked out of place but no bones broken. She is considerably bruised.

Harmon Dismissed.

J. D. Harmon, formerly of Ruddled Mills this county, who was for several years managing officer of the Humane Society in Lexington and was also Keeper of Records and Seals for Phoenix Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was dismissed Wednesday on examining trial on the charge of unlawful conversion of $475 belonging to the lodge. Mr. Harmon was accused of misappropriating the lodge's funds and was arrested at Memphis and brought back to Lexington on a warrant sworn out by J. S. Huddleson, his successor to the office of Keeper of Records and Seals. Harmon's friends are said to have paid the shortage alleged and the charge fell through at the examining trial Wednesday.

Will Probated.

The will of the late A. Shire was probated in the County Clerk's office by Judge Dundon Tuesday. It was written during the summer of 1905 and is witnessed by W. L. Yerkes and Jno. M. Brennan. He leaves his entire estate to his two children, Wm. Shire, of this city, and Mrs. Max Straus, of Cincinnati, to be equally divided share and share alike. He names his son, Wm. Shire, and son-in-law, Max Straus, as executors without bond, and requests that no inventory or appraisal of his estate be made or settlement with the court required.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous. In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

Edison, the Wizard.

Ere the world is a few months older humanity and civilization will be richer for a new development in electric science, evolved from the inventive genius of Thomas A. Edison.

The new discovery, which is destined to bring the great English-speaking nations into even closer union, is none other than the final development of the telephonic power to a height which will permit of conversations between individuals across 3,000 miles of water.

Only a few days ago, says a New York dispatch, learned scientists were arguing as to the possibility of establishing a clear vibrant electric connection between Liverpool and New York, and gavelly determined, after much discussion, that the feat could never be accomplished.

For years it has been known generally that Edison was busily engaged with experiments along this line. Only within the last few months, however, has there been reason to suppose that his work was reaching a definite result.

The reappearance of the familiar light during the dark hours of the morning in the windows of his private rooms in the laboratory told the people of West Orange, N. J., that something momentous was at hand.

That light showed that Mr. Edison was working toward a conclusion of his long labor. For many weeks he had worked, slept and eaten in the laboratory, lying down when exhausted to snatch one or two hours' rest on a couch, and then starting to work again when all the world was asleep. And now it is that Edison has at last conquered the difficulty of transmission of a human voice through long distance of water.

Wind or a rough sea cannot affect the transmission of an electric current. To protect the wires heavier insulation adds to the carrying capacity of the current. In thus graduating the exact power of insulation and in attaining the highest degree of sensitiveness between the receiver and the transmitter, lay the task which Mr. Edison, according to high authority, has at last surmounted.

The details are, of course, known only to himself. The secrets of the chamber in which Edison works through the silence of the night are more jealously guarded than the State papers of a German bureaucracy. But that he is at last by correlative experiment able to accurately estimate the carrying power of his sound waves under the sea is now beyond a doubt.

Side by side with the sea telephone is the veteran inventor completing certain remarkable developments in the Edison nickel iron storage battery, first introduced to the public two years ago with a view to its adaptability to the use of the automobile. Edison's labors with the storage battery have lain in the direction of a gradual lightening in the weight of the battery. With each reduction in the weight the endurance of the battery is increased.

Edison's improved storage battery will, it is believed, enable an automobile of high power to maintain a maximum speed ranging from 100 to 150 miles an hour. Under the present conditions it is possible for a racer of high power to attain a maximum speed of 220 miles an hour and maintain it for perhaps five minutes.

With the improvements now completed by Edison the discharge power of the amperes will be largely increased. The old storage battery was capable of running a vehicle 3,110 miles over bad roads. The capacity of the new battery is limitless in respect of speed or endurance.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret, that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at Oberdorfer's drug store.

University of Chicago.

Announcement was made at a special meeting of the University of Chicago board of trustees that John D. Rockefeller had just given to the University $1,450,000. Of this sum $1,000,000 is for the permanent endowment, $350,000 to cover the current expenditures or deficit of the departments of the University up to July 1, 1907, and the remaining $100,000 of the gift is to provide a fund, the interest on which is to go to the widow of President W. R. Harper during her life time.

Home Made

Have your cake, muffins, and tea biscuit home-made. They will be fresher, cleaner, more tasty and wholesome.

Royal Baking Powder helps the house wife to produce at home, quickly and economically, fine and tasty cake, the raised hot-biscuit, puddings, the frosted layer-cake, crisp cookies, crullers, crusts and muffins, with which the ready-made food found at the bake-shop or grocery does not compare.

Royal is the greatest of bake-day helps.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

THE FAIR

These Goods Have Orders to Vacate.

A store like The Fair is an ever-shifting panorama. Goods are constantly going out, and other goods are constantly coming in to replace them; this or that style or pattern will be discontinued; something better and more satisfying will be adopted in its stead; and so it goes month after month; and season after season. All this shifting of stock finds us frequently in possession of little lots, the left-overs from discontinued lines, that we are willing to get rid of at cost or less, to keep the stock clean and ship-shape. It happens that we have quite a lot of these remainders on hand just now, and as we prefer their room to their company, we have given them peremptory orders to vacate, in the shape of new price-tags, bearing prices about half what they formerly were. We should not wonder if you would like some of these at the cut prices; and give below a list of a few representative items. Of course, a call at The Fair is the only way to see them all.

Real China Bread and Butter Plates, 10c; Plates.

Individual plates for table use were unknown to the ancients, who held their meat in their hands or employed the flat wheaten cakes then made on which to hold their victuals. They are first mentioned in A. D. 600 as used by the luxurious on the continent, and in the ninth century they had come into common use both in England and on the continent. They were made of wood or some kind of earthenware, the former material being preferred because it did not dull the knives.

The Saturnalia.
The saturnalia was a midwinter feast of the Romans in honor of Saturn, beginning on Dec. 17. On this occasion great license was given to every one to do what he pleased, and even the slaves were permitted much liberty of speech and action. All work was suspended, the houses and temples were decorated, congratulations were exchanged and presents sent as with us at Christmas.

Better Be Careful.
A sporting paper recommends a certain way of avoiding the bites of a dog, however savage. All one has to do is to stand perfectly still and hold one's hand out. The dog, says the writer, will take the hand into his mouth, but will not bite it. But what guarantee have we that the dog knows this?—London Globe.

Differences of Opinion.
"Women are hard to understand,"
said the callow philosopher.
"Not at all," answered Mr. Meekton.
"Henrietta has never yet spoken her mind to me without making herself perfectly clear."—Washington Star.

De Witt—So you saw me stealing a kiss, eh? Upton—I did, and I call it larceny. De Witt (estatically)—Par-

Salt, the Civilizer.
The use of salt as a necessary supplement to diet has had much influence in shaping the civilization and exploration of the world. It is most probable that the oldest trade routes were created for the salt traffic, as salt and incense formed the chief necessities of the ancient days. This was certainly the case with the caravan routes in Libya and the Sahara, while the mines of north India were the center of a large trade before the time of Alexander.

Another interesting fact is that salt has played a considerable part in the distribution of man. When it became absolutely necessary to him, as it did at an early stage of his development, he was forced to migrate to places where it could be obtained. This brought him to the seashore, where he gained his ideas of maritime commerce.
Lastly, the preservative effects of salt on flesh food made long oceanic voyages possible and thus opened up the world to commerce and civilization.

How Cowards Were Punished.
Many of the devices by which military indifference to life has been matured and sustained are curious. In ancient Athens the public temples were closed to those who refused military service, who deserted their ranks or lost their bucklers, while a law constrained such offenders to sit for three days in the public forum dressed in the garments of women. Many a Spartan mother would stab her son who came back alive from a defeat, and such a man, if he escaped his mother, was debarr'd not only from public offices, but from marriage, exposed to the blows of all who chose to strike him, compelled to dress in mean clothing and to wear his beard negligently trimmed. In the same way a horse soldier who fled or lost his shield or received a wound in any save the front part of the body was by law prevented from ever afterward appearing in public.

The First Electric Train.
The earliest public trial of a passenger boat driven by an electric motor was that conducted by Professor Jacobi of St. Petersburg in the year 1838, though for four years previously he had successfully experimented with electric traction in the privacy of his own grounds. The trial of Jacobi's vessel took place on the Neva and was witnessed by a vast crowd of people.
The boat was twenty-eight feet long and ten feet wide and carried fourteen persons.

It was not until four years later that we find any record of a passenger carriage driven by electricity on land, and in this case the inventor was Alexander Davidson of Edinburgh. The carriage was sixteen feet long by seven feet wide and was impelled for a mile and a half at the rate of four miles an hour on the Edinburgh and Glasgow railway.

The Game of the Sheep.
Among the gypsies of Bosnia there is a curious game called "the game of the sheep."

You know they skin a sheep or goat in the east by dragging the skin off whole over its head. This skin the Bosnians drip and grease most carefully. Then they tie up the four legs and the neck and blow it full of air, so that it looks like a very greasy, badly shaped sheep. This is thrown in the middle of a ring, and each man in turn jumps on it with bare feet until one succeeds in bursting it. The lucky one then gets a purse. Such a funny sight as it is to see them jump and sprawl, for of course if they do not strike it at just the right angle they slip on the greasy surface as if it were a toboggan slide and go sprawling.

Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm.
Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr.
King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me. Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds,
